LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Aang Unanga Shareholders & Descendants,

As the weather shifts and spring ushers in longer days, we also welcome a new fiscal year starting April 1st – the perfect time to reflect on Aleut’s accomplishments and look ahead to the future. At the heart of everything we do is our commitment to you, our shareholders, ensuring that our decisions and actions align with delivering value and supporting our Unanga communities. I’m filled with gratitude for the hard work, dedication, and collective efforts that have driven Aleut’s continued success over recent years. Thanks to our disciplined approach to growth, we are on track for another record-setting year.

This month, we celebrated a significant milestone as Dave Nevzuroff marked his 50th year with Aleut. As a shareholder employee, he has exemplified the strength and value that shareholders bring to Aleut. You can read more about his incredible life and career on page 12 of this newsletter.

On February 1, 2025, we finalized the acquisition of Richards Distributing Inc. (RDI) and transitioned its businesses—Arctic Home Living, Alaska EcoWater, and Renewable Energy Systems—to Aleut’s newest subsidiary, Aleut Energy. This acquisition aligns with Aleut’s commitment to growth and diversification, expanding into the renewable energy and retail industries. We’re thrilled to welcome the entire Aleut Energy team into the Aleut family of companies. You can learn more on page 4.

This past year was one of significance for Aleut. The launch of Tayal Brokerage; the establishment of our Settlement Trust and the removal of the debt ceiling; the rebrand of Aleut & two of our subsidiaries (AV & ARE); the purchase of RDI and the formation of Aleut Energy; the continued growth of Aleut Federal; and the many shareholder hires and promotions within Aleut are just a few examples of Aleut’s recent successes—all of which are driven by our vision to serve and uplift our shareholders and communities.

Continuing to build on this momentum, Aleut is forecasting to once again achieve a record-breaking year. While our fiscal year is not quite over, we are tracking towards our highest revenue earnings to date at just under $400 million. That’s an increase of $22 million from last year. This achievement is a testament to our collective efforts and disciplined and balanced strategy.

Importantly, this growth is sustainable, ensuring we remain on track to deliver long-term shareholder value. The 2025 dividend announcement will be made in mid-April, shortly after the close of our fiscal year. It’s been an exceptional year at Aleut, and we look forward to sharing our earnings with you.

We have two upcoming Shareholder Informational Meetings in Scottsdale, Arizona on April 5, and San Francisco, California on April 6. We look forward to providing corporate updates and hearing from our local shareholders on the West Coast! We’ll be kicking off our summer in-region community travel soon after. More information about dates and locations for those meetings will be shared in the coming weeks.

Together, we are building a stronger future for our people—one rooted in our shared mission, values, and vision for sustainable growth.

BOARD CHAIR REPORT

Dear Shareholders and Descendants,

As spring unfolds, it brings a renewed sense of purpose and momentum for Aleut staff and the Board. This season is an opportunity to reflect on our shared progress and look forward to the goals we will achieve together in 2025.

Because of the commitment and action of our shareholders, Aleut was able to establish a Settlement Trust, which will allow for more favorable tax benefits for dividends and benefits for shareholders. Dividend distributions from the Trust will begin this year as well, and we're excited to share more information with you as it becomes available.

At Aleut, we are committed to supporting shareholder careers, and we are excited to recognize nine shareholder employees who received promotions this year.

Congratulations! Aleut thrives because of engaged shareholders, and we are so proud to see our Unanga꥕ Shareholders advancing within the corporation and making a difference in our communities.

The future of our corporation is shaped by strong leadership, and Aleut's Board of Directors plays a critical role in guiding Aleut's strategic direction. If you are interested in serving on the Aleut Board of Directors, the nomination period opens in mid-April, with a deadline of June 13, 2025. We encourage shareholders to consider running for one of the open seats—visit page 8 to learn more.

Upcoming in April, we are excited to host shareholder informational meetings in Scottsdale, Arizona, and San Francisco, California. These gatherings provide a unique opportunity to connect with shareholders, discuss corporate updates, and engage in meaningful conversations about Aleut's progress. We value these moments for greater connection with you, and look forward to seeing many of you there! RSVP and location info is on page 17.

Congratulations to the 2024 Aleut Marketplace winners: Kjell Mack, Madison Thompson, and Arlene Wilson! Their success reflects the innovation and entrepreneurial spirit of our shareholders, and we look forward to seeing their businesses thrive in the coming years! To all aspiring Unanga꥕ entrepreneurs, the 2025 edition of the Aleut Marketplace is already in the works and we encourage you to submit your business plans. Stay tuned for more details in the coming weeks, and read more about the 2024 Marketplace winners on page 11.

Looking ahead to summer, we are excited to announce that the annual Aleut Picnic will take place on June 28, 2025. Last year, we enjoyed a beautiful sunny day filled with laughter, celebration, and the joy of gathering as a community. We hope to see many of you again this year to share in this celebration of Aleut's Incorporation, cheer on our Culture Camp Unanga꥕ dancers, and gather together.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, we are proud of the Corporation's accomplishments this year and we look forward to our continued success.

INTRODUCING ALEUT'S NEWEST SUBSIDIARY: ALEUT ENERGY

Aleut continues to expand our business portfolio with the launch of Aleut Energy LLC, our newest subsidiary. Formed through the acquisition of Richards Distributing, Inc. (RDI) and its three established business lines—Renewable Energy Systems, Arctic Home Living, and Alaska EcoWater Systems—Aleut Energy strengthens Aleut’s presence in Alaska’s renewable energy and retail markets. This acquisition has allowed us to develop new operations outside government contracting, providing more sustainable long-term benefits for our shareholders.

RDI has been a trusted name in Alaska since 1987, offering innovative solutions in energy, water treatment, and home spa products. With retail locations in Anchorage, Fairbanks, and the Mat-Su Valley, RDI’s reputation for quality service and expertise aligns with Aleut’s mission to build sustainable businesses that create long-term value for shareholders.

Nick Goodman will lead Aleut Energy as President, bringing over 20 years of leadership experience across renewable energy, government contracting, and hospitality. Key RDI leaders Jeremy Lane and Eddie Davidson will step into the roles of Senior Vice President and Vice President, respectively, ensuring continuity as the business transitions under Aleut ownership. RDI founders Rob and Karlene Richards will stay on through the transition before stepping into retirement.

With this acquisition, Aleut Energy is well-positioned to support Alaska’s evolving energy and retail needs while maintaining the trusted service that RDI customers expect.

The transition went into effect January 31, 2025, with Aleut Energy headquartered in Fairbanks. Shareholders can expect continued updates as Aleut Energy moves forward.

Aleut Federal continues to secure high-profile contracts that enhance its long-term stability and create new revenue opportunities. In January, Aleut Management Services, LLC earned a position on the U.S. General Services Administration's One Acquisition Solution for Integrated Services Plus (OASIS+) Total Small Business program. This contract allows Aleut to compete for a broad range of federal projects in management, advisory, technical, and engineering services, strengthening its ability to secure long-term government partnerships and drive consistent revenue.

Additionally, Aleut Aerospace Engineering LLC was selected as a contractor for the U.S. Navy's SeaPort Next Generation (SeaPort NxG) IDIQ contract, a $50 billion professional support services vehicle spanning up to ten years. This award provides access to high-value contracts, diversifying AF's contract portfolio and allowing AF to build a more resilient business that supports shareholder value and long-term growth.

In February, senior leaders from across Aleut convened for AF's FY26 Kickoff to align strategies and collaborate in support of initiatives that target shareholder impact. This event featured portfolio briefings, breakout sessions, and updates from the Aleut parent company to drive and define unified growth and success in the year ahead.

With a strong backlog and an extensive project pipeline, Aleut Federal is well-positioned to continue delivering sustainable returns and expanding its impact across key industries.

Aleut Real Estate (ARE) and its subsidiary, Tayal Brokerage, have made significant strides this quarter, with exciting developments across their projects and operations.

ARE and Aleut have continued to collaborate with plans for Aleut's move to Denali Towers later this year, and plans at Denali Towers are moving full steam ahead and remain on schedule. The updated facilities include a brand new Shareholder Care Center where shareholders and descendants alike can drop by to meet with Aleut staff, fill out important paperwork with the support of Aleut's records team, or gather in community. Meanwhile, Tayal Brokerage is seeking new lessees for the Aleut Plaza space, and any interested parties should contact Mike Jenks at mjenks@aleutrealestate.com.

In addition to ARE's work to support Aleut in our move to Denali Towers, ARE has been actively exploring strategic investments to enhance its portfolio and shareholder value. All properties remain profitable, with strong performance from existing ventures like the Black Brandt JV. ARE is evaluating potential investments, including the Denali Tower building and an additional downtown boutique hotel, as part of its strategy to diversify and redeploy funds from earlier projects. The team is also expanding its partnerships with real estate firms both within and outside Alaska.

We're thrilled to announce that Tayal Brokerage's new website officially launched on January 17. This updated site offers an updated online experience for clients, showcasing Tayal's services and expertise in commercial real estate. It also represents an important step forward in strengthening Tayal's digital presence and aligning with Aleut's broader technology goals.

These accomplishments are a result of the hard work and dedication of our ARE and Tayal Brokerage teams. Together, they are driving innovation, improving tenant and client experiences, and creating opportunities that benefit Aleut and its shareholders.

Patrick Mechanical (PMI), also recently launched their updated branding, and is beginning work on a new website in the coming weeks. With a solid backlog and a growing project pipeline, Aleut Mechanical remains a reliable contributor to Aleut's operational success.

Aleut Ventures (AV) has been hard at work these past months, driving projects that enhance infrastructure, create opportunities, and support our communities in the Aleut region.

ALEUT MECHANICAL

Exciting progress is underway on a new hangar at the Cold Bay airport. This facility will enhance our ability to support aircraft operations, strengthening AV's presence and capabilities in the region. Additionally, AV has installed a new fuel dispenser at the gas station, addressing a critical need for the community. Despite the unique challenges of operating in such a remote area, the team has made remarkable strides in advancing these projects.

Additionally, AV subdivided a recently purchased house in Cold Bay to provide dual benefits: helping us attract and retain top talent while reinforcing our goal of being an Employer of Choice, and offering convenient and comfortable accommodations for travelers to the region.

AV now offers equipment rentals for stand-up paddleboarding, e-biking, and fishing to visitors to Adak.

Project Manager Zack Bush shows Aleut around the PMI warehouse.

Aleut Mechanical continues to deliver exceptional project performance and profitability, exceeding its year-to-date goals. Work at JBER Joint Base Elmendorf-Richardson (JBER) in Anchorage, AK, has been a significant driver of strong results, with cost management and strategic execution ensuring high profit margins. Projects at Ft. Wainwright (FTW), near Fairbanks, AK, are progressing well despite minor delays, and customer satisfaction on the FTW Barracks project is generating new opportunities. The Chief Peter John Tribal Building project is advancing into its next phase on schedule. Aleut Mechanical and its subsidiary,

M. Enderle and R. Roberts with the new Frosty Fuels Deicer.

Whether you're paddling along the coastline, cycling through the unique and windswept terrain, or casting your line into pristine waters, Adak promises unforgettable experiences for visitors and residents alike. AV continues to work on Adak Island Inn, and is busy preparing for the summer tourism season. AV has successfully navigated seasonal changes, maintaining profitability and exceeding budget expectations.

In Adak, higher-than-anticipated Jet-A fuel sales over the summer have prompted additional inventory replenishment, while new pricing strategies aim to balance cost recovery with affordability for local customers. In Cold Bay, de-icing training has been completed, and a second Jet-A tanker truck has been deployed to enhance operations. These initiatives underscore Aleut Ventures' commitment to operational efficiency and community support, positioning it for sustained success in the region.

Strata-G is effectively managing its costs while achieving strong profitability, driven by its innovative projects in unmanned aerial systems (UAS) and advanced aerospace solutions. The company continues to invest in proprietary technology to strengthen its competitive edge, positioning itself for long-term growth. A recently awarded contract to a prime contractor partner is expected to boost production and revenue in the coming fiscal year.

Looking ahead, Strata-G is actively expanding its relationships with additional government agencies to diversify its portfolio and increase contract opportunities. The company is also focusing on logistics capabilities, seeking to enhance efficiencies and broaden its service offerings. In addition, Strata-G is working to extend its customer base beyond its core operations in Huntsville, identifying new opportunities to grow in other strategic markets. By leveraging its strong backlog, investing in innovation, and broadening its reach, Strata-G is well-positioned to sustain long-term success and create new revenue streams that will support our goal of long-term sustainable growth.

2024 SHAREHOLDER MARKETPLACE WINNERS

We are thrilled to announce our Aleut Marketplace winners! Each winner will be awarded $25,000 to invest in their businesses.

Open to all Alaska-based shareholders and descendants, this program began with 30 applicants submitting their business concepts. From there, a panel of neutral judges narrowed down the candidate pool to 11 semifinalists, who were invited to Anchorage to participate in a three-day business boot camp. At the bootcamp, they underwent intensive training in business fundamentals. Semifinalists then had three months to develop their formal business proposals, while working with mentors and marketing professionals.

A second panel of neutral judges selected the winners of the final awards. The winners were chosen because they offer strong economic growth opportunities and address areas of improvement within the communities that they will serve. We are so excited to invest in our shareholders, and we're blown away by the entrepreneurial spirit shining throughout this competition.

Mack's General Store
Kjell Mack
King Cove, Alaska

Mack's General Store is a new business and will provide King Cove residents with a second, competitively-priced resource for groceries and essentials. Mack's General Store will be conveniently situated in a more centralized, residential location and will have longer hours to better serve the needs of the King Cove community. Kjell plans to use the award funds to purchase essential equipment to get his business up-and-running. Kjell is from King Cove, and wants to support his community by donating 5% of his net proceeds back into the community.

Small Craft Café
Madison Thompson
Sand Point, Alaska

Small Craft Café is a family-owned cafe and restaurant in Sand Point, Alaska, overlooking the boat harbor. It serves residents, seasonal workers, and town visitors with a safe, communal gathering space and high-quality café-fare food. The café offers affordable, high-quality meals in a welcoming environment where patrons can watch TV, browse the internet, and enjoy a cup of drip coffee. The tight-knit employees at Small Craft Café want to grow and solidify their position as the premier dining location in Sand Point. The award funds will allow Small Craft Café to upgrade their facilities, enhance customer experience, and solidify its longevity as a small business in rural Alaska.

Momma Bear's Daycare
Arlene Wilson
King Cove, Alaska

Arlene Wilson, from King Cove, will be opening a new business called Momma Bear's Daycare. As a mother of three young children herself, she is aware of the challenges that families with young children face when trying to find daycare options. King Cove currently does not have any official daycares, and it can be difficult to need to rely on family or friends. Momma Bear's Daycare will offer age-specific learning opportunities, cultural enrichment activities, healthy food, and a safe and caring environment. Arlene plans to use the award funds to make renovations to the daycare facility and purchase necessary equipment and supplies for the children.

Thank you to Alaska Growth Capital for partnering with us. The winnings will be administered by Alaska Growth Capital based on the plans detailed in the business proposals. And we also want to acknowledge that it is because of the exceptional performance of our subsidiaries that we can make this program happen.

DAVE NEVZUROFF

CELEBRATING 50 YEARS OF DEDICATION

On March 10, 2025, Aleut proudly celebrates an extraordinary milestone: original shareholder and employee Dave Nevzuroff's remarkable 50 years of service! From Aleut's earliest days in the 1970s to today, Dave has been a cornerstone of our corporation, bringing unmatched expertise, dedication, and a warm sense of humor to his role. Recognized as Shareholder of the Year in 2010, Dave is a founding shareholder from King Cove, Alaska, and has dedicated his career to serving Aleut and its shareholders. Growing up in the close-knit fishing community of King Cove, Dave spent his early years working as a commercial fisherman alongside his family. His connection to the land and people of the region shaped Dave's lifelong commitment to uplifting Unangaġ communities.

Dave is celebrated for 50 years of leadership and service. His contributions have profoundly shaped Aleut, leaving a lasting impact on shareholders and colleagues alike. His incredible legacy is deeply appreciated.

Dave Nevzuroff and Carol Smith reviewing the 2004 Adak Land Transfer agreement.

Dave's educational journey took him from Chilocco Indian School and East Anchorage High School to Sheldon Jackson College, Alaska Methodist University, and the University of Alaska Anchorage, where he studied accounting and elementary education. His academic achievements laid the foundation for his impactful career at Aleut, where he has served as a trailblazer in the accounting department. Over the years, Dave has also lent his expertise to 13 village corporations, served 10 years as a Director for Akima Corporation, dedicated 17 years as a trustee for Aleut's 10771 Retirement Program, and has served as Aleut's Assistant Secretary/Treasurer since the early 1980s (and as Aleut's sole Secretary/Treasurer before the role transitioned to a Board position).

Affectionately known as the “official coffee maker” of the office, Dave’s legendary brews are said to “put hair on your chest.” Yet it’s his bright smile, infectious laugh, and wisdom-filled stories that truly energize those around him. His colleagues often speak of his unwavering kindness, thoughtful advice, and deep commitment to putting shareholders first. Shareholders might recognize Dave from our Annual Meeting, where Dave and his wife Denia proudly volunteer to greet shareholders and support the Elder table every year.

Originally from King Cove, Alaska, Dave has dedicated his career to serving Aleut and its shareholders. Growing up in a close-knit fishing community, he worked alongside his family as a commercial fisherman.

Beyond his professional achievements, Dave’s adventurous spirit has led to some incredible experiences. As a skilled pilot, he’s flown Cessna 120s, 150s, and 172s, including an unforgettable journey co-piloting a Cessna 120 from Palmer, Alaska, to Cold Bay with his friend Ricky Koso. When asked about the journey, Dave chuckled and shared, “We actually got stuck in King Salmon for a few days because of the weather. But soon enough, we just decided to follow the Naknek to the coast and we stayed flying over that coast until we finally made it to Cold Bay!” Whether in the skies or on the ground, Dave’s sense of adventure and dedication have always inspired those around him.

Qāgaasakuq and congratulations, Dave, for 50 years of leadership, service, and laughter. Your contributions have profoundly shaped Aleut’s mission and continue to make an enduring impact on the lives of shareholders and colleagues alike. We are deeply grateful for your incredible legacy and are honored to celebrate this milestone with you. Congratulations on a half-century of excellence!

GROWING FOOD AND COMMUNITY IN THE ALEUTIANS

In the small village of Nikolski, located on Umnak Island in the Aleutian Chain, gardening has become both a source of fresh, nutritious food and a way to strengthen community ties. Despite challenges like strong winds, short summers, and limited supplies, the village has successfully used geodesic dome greenhouses to grow a variety of crops including strawberries, limes, tomatoes, and more!
